

THE RISE OF The Female Traveller

Welcoming modern women at AKARYN Hotel Group properties

●● SINCE EARLY 2014 the number and times of the term “female travel” has been searched for on Google has steadily increased, rising particularly dramatically in the past year. Everywhere you look, from Condé Nast Traveller to Huffington Post, headlines are highlighting the number of female travellers – whether journeying solo or in a women-only group – and the trend doesn’t show any signs of stopping.

What might have once been dismissed as an Eat Pray Love phenomenon is going strong ten years after the bestselling memoir was published. And those people searching for “female travel” online are no longer the stereotypical females of a decade ago. Female travel is now a global phenomenon and independent women travellers represent a significant percentage of this modern segment, spanning multiple age and interest groups.

Fearless females travelling the globe are not only interested in traditionally “female” pursuits either. According to a recent study by Mandala Research, an U.S.-based research center specializing in tourism studies, women are taking just as many leisure trips on average as men, and participating in a similar number of business trips. They expect the same level of services as their male counterparts, and broadly enjoy similar activities as men while travelling, although cultural, culinary and wellness pursuits tend to draw more of their interest.

Meeting the needs of modern travellers has always been a priority for AKARYN Hotel Group. The company’s Founder and Managing Director, Anchalika Kijkanakorn, is a highly successful female Asian entrepreneur, and she makes it a priority to ensure hotel staff members are well trained to be responsive to female travellers’ needs.

“Twenty years ago, independent females travellers were something of an anomaly and certainly not the norm when compared to other demographics such as couples or families,” explains Anchalika. “Today, woman are not only an important guest segment, but they also help drive the hotel industry to create new trends and provide valuable insights into the essentials of hospitality.”

Reflecting this commitment to female travellers’ interests, all AKARYN Hotel Group properties in Thailand are participating in a new “Deluxe Doyenne” package designed to give them the opportunity to learn some new skills during their stay. The 4-day-3-night offerings vary at different hotels, and each one offers a unique and engaging experience customized for different desires.

DELUXE DOYENNE DELIGHTS

●● DAY 1: CHECK-IN
Upon arrival, female guests enjoy the welcome aroma of a special scent in their room that emanates from an oil burner or candle as they indulge in a refreshing welcome drink and healthy snacks.

●● DAY 2: THE ART OF HOSPITALITY Thinking to throw a fun, modern and unique gatherings with friends, colleagues and families back home? AKARYN hotels and resorts offer Savoir-Faire to female travellers via The Art of Hospitality course. The course includes an introduction to flower art led by the in-house florist, along with lessons on how to make canapés and a selection of special cocktails.

●● DAY 3: DIFFERENT ACTIVITY OPTIONS are available at different AKARYN hotels and resorts.

●● WELCOME TO THE LATEST EDITION OF LIFE & TIMES—our window to share the inspiring ideas, activities, and experiences on offer at each of our distinctive hotels and resorts around Thailand.

I'm delighted to begin with exciting news of a new addition to the Group – our fourth property under the design driven akyra brand, and the second in the Thai capital – akyra Sukhumvit Bangkok. Just like her sister hotel in trendy Thonglor, this groundbreaking new addition of the city's bespoke luxury accommodation scene will offer a new take on hospitality that extends well beyond a place to sleep, providing our guests with moments to relish and remember.

At AKARYN Hotel Group we strive to create unforgettable experiences and we are constantly introducing new concepts for our guests to enjoy and interact with during their stay. As a female traveller myself, I am particularly passionate about catering to women guests, and one of our latest ideas is the "Deluxe Doyenne" package that has been designed specifically for women travellers who want to pick up a few new skills during their travels. Aside from this exciting package, we also host a regular women's surfing event at akyra Beach Club Phuket, and have introduced an herbal health discovery program attracting a lot of interests from our female guests at Aleenta Hua Hin where we run our own organic farm.

Another ongoing goal for us is to make sure we give back to the communities where we own and operate hotels and resorts. At akyra Manor Chiang Mai, we source as many of the ingredients used at the hotel's Italics restaurant as possible from local producers, and the exquisite meals that result from this approach not only support the rural economy but offer fresh, healthy, delicious cuisine for our guests.

By integrating community initiatives into our growth strategy and seeking new ventures in a range of fantastic locations, AKARYN Hotel Group is constantly evolving. We are proud to share our Life & Times with you in these pages and to turn our vision into an inspiring reality whenever and wherever you stay with us.

Couples' Numerology & Palm Reading

The concept of blending two lives while still remaining independent

●● The ancient science of numerology unlocks the code contained within important numbers such as your date of birth and the letters of your name. It can provide an amazing picture of two people, their purpose in this life and prediction of the way their destiny will unfold. While staying at akyra Manor Chiang Mai, couples can learn more about the numbers that reflect and affect them both as individuals and together. Guided by a numerologist and relationship expert Frans Captijn, they learn how to better compromise in the relationship and to appreciate the concept of blending two lives while still remaining independent.

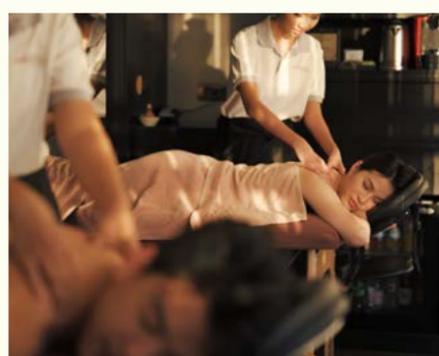

The history of palmistry can be traced back to Aristotle and ancient Greece, although many people believe it originated even earlier in India. What the practice essentially boils down to is gathering information about someone by reading the lines in their palm. The various lines in the palm tell a palmist about an individual's love life, their mindset, career path, successes and prediction of the challenges they will encounter in the future.

Couples' Health & Wellness

The philosophy of "Eat Well, Live Well, Be Well, Look Good"

●● Even today, most wedding vows include a reference to "sickness and health" but everyone hopes for the latter "as long they both shall live". To help start their lives together on a path to wellness and longevity, Aleenta Phuket Resort & Spa, Aleenta Hua Hin Resort & Spa and akyra Beach Club Phuket offer couples an intensive wellness assessment that includes Bio impedance analysis, measurement of fat percentages and body water percentages, muscle mass and bone mass calculations, BMR, metabolic age, visceral fat levels, blood pressure, blood sugar, skin analysis and Thai element analysis with results provided in a detailed wellness report.

To cleanse away the toxins after an exuberant wedding celebration couples can respond to their wellness needs through a host of holistic treatments and therapies from healing massage to mind balancing and specialised yoga practice.

Farm to Fork Favourites

Helping the local community with healthy cuisine

●● TAKING ADVANTAGE of the bounty of locally produced meat, vegetables and fruit available in and around the northern Thai capital, akyra Manor Chiang Mai's Italics restaurant is using the freshest ingredients to re-imagine high quality global cuisine.

From organic cherry tomatoes bursting with sweetness to French cheeses made in Chiang Mai and 100% Thai Arabica coffee handpicked in the nearby hills, Italics' menu features a fusion of flavours while focusing on the freshest local produce.

Indulge in a perfectly prepared margarita pizza, or tantalise your taste buds with a Thai-inspired Chiang Mai Pizza topped with sour pork – the famous northern Thai sausage known as sai oua– and garnished with arugula and pickles, all the while knowing your meal has come straight from the farm to the fork.

“ Sourcing our ingredients from nearby producers helps support the local economy ”

Chef Phubase who runs the kitchens at akyra Manor Chiang Mai says, “Thai cuisine is famous around the world and we're fortunate that Chiang Mai not only enjoys a strong culinary tradition, but also has a plethora of high-quality produce and artisanal food products available locally.”

“Sourcing our ingredients from nearby producers helps support the local economy. It also provides our guests with unparalleled quality and the best possible taste,” he adds.

In addition to showcasing local suppliers in its menu, akyra Manor Chiang Mai is also dedicated to supporting the local community in Thailand's northern capital, particularly through education to help future generations.

Throughout 2017, the hotel is working closely with nearby Panghai School, where the akyra team recently helped paint the kitchens and also provided much-needed utensils. The hotel team regularly joins fundraising efforts to create a better learning environment for the pupils and also helps plant vegetables in the school's organic garden.

This ongoing support, with an emphasis on giving back, is a pillar of the hotel's parent company, AKARYN Hotel Group, and plays a strong role in akyra Manor Chiang Mai's corporate culture.

AKARYN Hotel Group's Founder and Managing Director, Anchalika Kijkanakorn, who has been previously named a Hero of Philanthropy by Forbes Asia, says, “One major aspect that draws people to Chiang Mai, both to visit and to live, is its strong sense of community. HUA HIN MARVELLOUS

●● AKARYN HOTEL GROUP'S award-winning boutique luxury resort, Aleenta Hua Hin Resort and Spa in Pranburi, was the first property in what is now an expanding portfolio of luxury boutique hotels and resorts across Thailand. General Manager, Graeme Freeman, explains why the Group's original boutique resort still offers a smart, chic and elegant choice for independent travellers looking for a luxury escape in one of Thailand's most diverse and attractive beach destinations.

What makes a holiday at Aleenta Hua Hin Resort & Spa unique?

We offer just 25 unique luxury residences. Each suite or villa is located just steps away from the beach, with commanding views of the stunning Gulf of Siam. The pristine golden sand in Pak Nampran Bay provides a rare chance to experience Thailand's best beaches without the crowds, but Pranburi is a mere 2.5 hour drive south of Bangkok and therefore offers a perfect location for a romantic escape, a memorable beach wedding, an idyllic honeymoon or a private family holiday. In addition to the beautiful setting, our resort is also known for the special concept of food & beverage.

Could you elaborate more about the food concept?

Our onsite Aleenta Restaurant serves an eclectic mix of delicious traditional and modern Thai dishes, as well as international cuisine created using the freshest ingredients, organic herbs and vegetables. Many of them are sourced from our very own organic farm, or from local producers located within 30km of the resort. We also have a bakery to produce the freshest breads and pastries, available for delivery and Grab-and-Go. Guests can arrange for private dining experiences on the terrace of their suite or villa. The chef can even set up a private barbecue party for special social gatherings.

Anything special on beverage concept?

Gin! The gin trend is travelling around the planet and it has also reached Thailand. We therefore offer a secret abode for lovers of some of the best gin from around the world in sumptuous comfort of the Aleenta Restaurant, accompanied by an array of delicious tapas. Our mixologist sources ingredients from the resort's organic farm and other local farms to infuse botanicals and develop the aromas of the premium gin & tonics. Have you even seen Pink Butterfly pea? They are usually in blue but ours are pink. Cherry Oranges normally grow in China and Japan but we also have them here with the same quality and taste, a must try! The exceptional gin options include Hendrick's, G'Vine Floraison, G'Vine Nouaison, Bitter Truth Pink, Ungava Premium, Martin Miller's and Kristall G #13 Gin. Guests can mix and match the eight premium gins with three exotic tonics to create their own signature cocktail.

You mentioned about wedding earlier, tell us more.

Aleenta Hua Hin has a reputation as a top choice destination for beach wedding because of its premium location on the unspoiled beach and the large villas that easily accommodate wedding couples, families and guests. The best weddings need personal touch, and our team makes every big day, and the lead up to it, all about the couple. We are on hand to help before, during and after the wedding, and our resort boasts an inviting, cozy atmosphere surrounded by nature. Its unique character comes from a former life as a luxury family beach residence. We are extremely lucky to be located on a wide unspoiled beach so close to Bangkok, which really makes Aleenta Hua Hin a convenient and exclusive wedding venue that's hard to beat.

What are the main attractions and activities in Pranburi that you recommend to your guests?

Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park is located off the coast of Prachuap Khiri Khan Province, it was the first marine national park of Thailand and the name means "The Mountain with three hundred peaks", which refers to a series of limestone hills peppered through the Gulf of Thailand. The most famous attraction of the national park is Phraya Nakhon Cave with its iconic royal pavilion and huge chambers. The park is also an attractive destination to spot wildlife in mangrove forests, along its trails and from viewpoints. The park is home to a great diversity of bird species - around 300 species, half of them migratory birds. The forest areas in the nearby mountains also provide a habitat for some rare mammals such as the dusky leaf monkey, crab-eating macaque, Malayan porcupine, mainland serow, slow loris, barking deer, fishing cat and Malayan pangolin. Dolphins are regularly seen along this stretch of coast, although it is not guaranteed, there is a good chance to spot some on boat trips. I also recommend the wild elephant watching area in nearby Kui Buri National Park. It is the best place in Thailand to see herds of elephants and gaurs. For guests who would like to plan their trips in advance, stay tuned for the upcoming signature Aleenta experience program on aleenta.com/huahin.
